
Through our minds sometime each day
Comes a thought of those who are far away:
We hope that each one of you will do
That which is needed to see things through.

As you go forward into each fight
We hope and pray you may do right.
We want to assure you, as best we can,
That back of you, your school will stand.

Katherine Parker

Flora Dale